

CURIOUS New Science Faculty PhD Seminar

Friday 22nd March 2019 16:00-17:00

Vivi Täckholmsalen (Q211), NPQ-huset, Svante Arrheniusväg 20

Emily Freeland, PhD

Community Manager @ Oskar Klein Center and Career Development Advocate @ Math-Physics Section

From Planning to Presenting : How to Minimize the Number of People Sleeping During Your Science Talk

Plan → Prepare (slides) → Practice → Present

Oliver Krüger

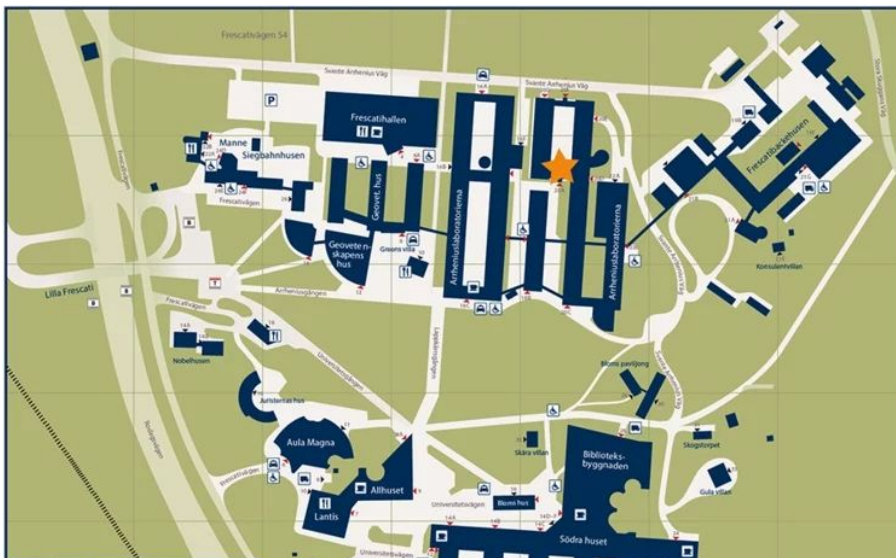

Ph.D. candidate @ Dept. of Mathematics

Mathematical theory of extremal networks

What is the least number of people which guarantees that some three of them are either mutual acquaintances or complete strangers? We discuss how this and similar questions can be deceptively difficult when restricted by mathematical rigour.

17:00 NF PhD Pub hosted by Zoologi, outside Vivi Täckholmsalen

Interested in giving a talk yourself?

Want to host one of these seminars at your department?

Join us for a quick discussion after the talks in Vivi Täckholmsalen!